

I am going to school

We have been staying at home because of a virus that has been making people poorly.

To keep ourselves safe we must socially distance from people who do not live in our house. Social distancing means staying at least 2 metres apart when we are not at home.

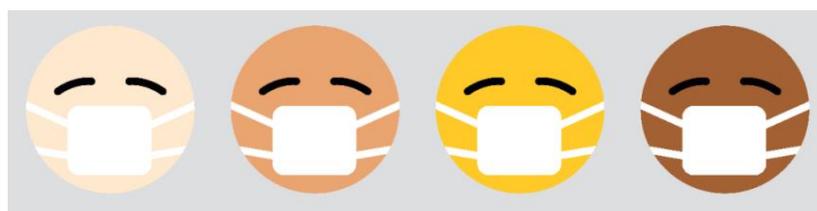

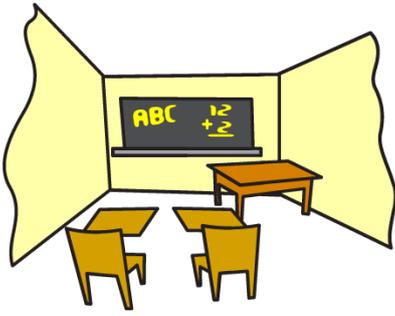

When we go back to school we must try to stay 2 metres apart from the other children and the teachers and we will need to wash our hands lots of times in the day.

Washing our hands helps to keep us safe and we should wash our hands for 20 seconds using soap and warm water.

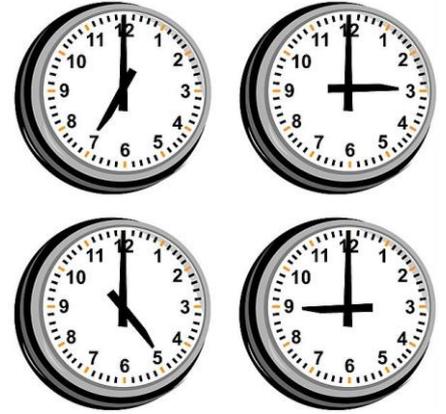

We do not have to wear masks but some people might wear masks sometimes, if this makes me feel uncomfortable or frightened it is ok I can talk to a teacher and let them know I am worried.

In school I will not be in my usual classroom and I will be with a different group of children from my usual class, but there might be some people I know.

My new group is called my bubble and each bubble might start and finish school at different times of the day – this is so that we can all space out when we arrive and when we leave.

I will go through the main gate and straight to my bubble's classroom when I come in the morning and I will be collected from the same place.

The rooms will be set up differently, everything will need to be spread out, I will have my own pack of resources for learning time and I cannot work too close to the other children.

Lessons will be different, I might get to see some teachers on the screen, and I might play in my bubble. Lunch and play times will be different too. I will eat in my Bubble's classroom and will go outside at different times and in different areas than the other bubbles.

It might feel strange that I cannot high five, hug or touch the other children in school or the teachers. It is okay to feel however I feel about this.

If I feel worried I can talk to the teachers and they will help me. The teachers can still help me with my learning.

Social distancing might feel strange but it will keep the people in my school safer and it is good to feel safe.
